

YOUR PARTICIPATION COUNTS

It is only by carrying out surveys such as this one that we can get a clear idea of social attitudes and related issues in Ireland.

Although voluntary, your participation is crucial to the success of the study.

If you are busy when the interviewer first calls he/she will make an appointment to call back at a time which suits you.

I hope you will be able to support us in our work and I would like to thank you, in anticipation, for your co-operation.

Yours sincerely,

James Williams
(Head of Survey Unit)

European Attitudes Survey

Winter 2004/2005

ABOUT THE SURVEY

The European Social Survey is being carried out by the Economic and Social Research Institute and the Institute for the Study of Social Change (ISSC) in University College, Dublin. This is part of a largescale international survey which is being carried out in up to 20 countries in Europe and Eastern Europe.

The survey is designed to collect accurate and up-to-date information on aspects of people's views and attitudes towards a wide range of social and related issues in Ireland today. This involves recording details on your attitudes and views across a range of issues including:

- current social and political issues
- religion
- State institutions such as the Dáil, legal system etc.
- work and work practices
- medical practitioners and medical practices

This information will allow us to get a picture of how we compare with other European countries in terms of our outlook on life; general social attitudes etc.

HOW YOU WERE SELECTED

Your address was selected for inclusion in this survey on a random statistical basis from the national electoral register.

CONFIDENTIALITY

You can be assured that all the information collected by the interviewer will be treated in the strictest confidence. We give an absolute guarantee of confidentiality in respect of all information which we collect.

The identity of individual respondents is never revealed in our reports. The reports we produce deal only in general percentages, averages etc. Individual information on any respondent is never revealed to anyone outside the ESRI in any manner which would allow the individual respondent to be identified.

All our interviewers carry a photo-ID card. If you want to confirm the identity of our interviewer please phone Ms Eileen Kelleher in our Field Management Section at 01-6671525.

ABOUT THE ESRI

The ESRI is an independent research institute which carries out applied social and economic research on a range of topics. We are not part of any government body or government department.
